

Please Help...

This down on his luck Canadian-Italian Auto Executive who wants to stick it to you worse than your counterparts at GM and Ford Motor.

He knows all the sacrifices you made to keep this company going in 2007 and 2009 and he doesn't care. No raise in base pay since 2006. Not his problem. Lost COLA protection and overtime pay after 8 hours, you are out of luck. Permanent lower tier for new workers, macaroni and cheese is still a cheap meal. The big zero for retirees, they get a senior discount don't they?

Union sisters and brothers, your CEO Sergio Marchionne needs more of your money. Please do what you can to help him get what he deserves.
